Introduction

At RIWI, every experience matters.
Workshops, conversations with companies, hackathons, and well-being sessions are key to shaping confident, job-ready developers.
To maximize their impact, these experiences must be visible, accessible, and measurable.

General management

Today, these transversal activities are managed through multiple channels such as email and Discord.

This fragmentation limits visibility, reduces participation, and makes it difficult to track attendance, engagement, and real impact.

Objectives

The main objective of this initiative is to design and implement a centralized system that enables RIWI to manage all transversal events and activities in an efficient, transparent, and data-driven way.

Improve the effectiveness of tasks

Incident tracking

Maintain communication with the team

Plan weekly tasks
